2019 - Immigration & Food - Generation to Generation Oral History Project

The Immigration & Food Oral History Project contains ten interviews recorded in 2019. The interviews were conducted by The History Center Youth Ambassadors. Under the supervision and coordination of History Center staff the teen ambassadors explored the history of immigration in Tompkins County by conducting interviews with people who had immigrated to the United States, live in Tompkins County, and own a restaurant or food-related business (or whose parents/families owned the business). This project was supervised by History Center Director of Youth Education Julia Taylor.

Trigger warnings: poverty, war, descriptions of state sanctioned violence.

Interviews with:

Akua Akyea* (15 minutes)

Akua Akyea reflects on her childhood spent in Africa, Western Europe, and Canada and the lifelong connection with food that led her to opening Mama Loye's Cafe in Dryden. She also discusses her personal philosophy of the importance of growth and trying things outside of her comfort zone.

Trigger warnings: war, descriptions of state sanctioned violence.
